
Family Literacy Programs in Alberta

Literacy Develops in Families First

Compiled by the Centre for Family Literacy
Edmonton, Alberta

Revised November 2009

Introduction

The purpose of this document is to provide as composite a listing as possible of family literacy programs operating in communities across Alberta. The document contains information on the programs funded through Alberta Advanced Education and Technology's Parent-Child Literacy Strategy as well as other programs funded through a wide variety of sources.

Programs are listed in alphabetical order by program name. The Table of Contents at the beginning of the document lists family literacy programs by community.

This list of family literacy programs is based on program update forms provided by family literacy organizations across Alberta on a regular basis. If you do not see your program listed, or if the information is outdated, please fill out the update form in Appendix A at the end of this document or use the update form on our website www.famlit.ca. We will post an updated list of Family Literacy Programs on an annual basis.

We believe family literacy practitioners are a great source of information and expertise, and we hope you find this document useful in networking with your colleagues.

Facilitator training opportunities are offered by the Centre for Family Literacy on a provincial basis through events such as the annual "Family Literacy Training Institute" and "Food for Thought" --contact is Pat Halewich at pat_halewich@famlit.ca and on a regional basis through the Family Literacy Regional Network. Seven Regional Coordinators have been contracted to provide training and support in each region: Holly Handfield – Northwest Region (holly_handfield@famlit.ca), Jodi Rasmusson – Northeast Region (jodi_rasmusson@famlit.ca), Wendy Peverett - North Central Region (wendy_peverett@famlit.ca), Donna Arnold - South Central Region (donna_arnold@famlit.ca), Nada Jerkovic – Southwest Region (nada_jerkovic@famlit.ca) Celena Gerl – Southeast Region (celena_gerl@famlit.ca), and Colleen Crozier – Aboriginal Region (colleen_crozier@famlit.ca).

The Centre for Family Literacy would like to gratefully acknowledge funding support for this project from the Parent-Child Literacy Strategy, Community Programs of the Alberta Government.

Overview of Program

Books for Babies is a program delivered in partnership with community agencies (community support agencies, public health, Edmonton Public Libraries) to encourage parents to share books with their babies, starting in their first year. It is a four-week program delivered either through one-on-one contacts or in a group setting facilitated by various community partners, including parents from the program. Locations for the sessions include family resource centers, public health centers, libraries and community centers. New parents (with their babies) are invited to attend through health centre workers or community agency contacts.

The program provides each family with a sturdy book bag, a number of books, and easy-to-read information. Ways to enjoy books together are modeled and shared, and parents are given guidance around choosing appropriate books for their baby. Parents are also introduced to their local library and other available resources. The group sessions enjoy an informal, social time with other parents around a light meal. The last session includes time for parents to give feedback about the program and how it worked for them. Each group session is about an hour and half in length with a recommended group size of 10 to 15 families.

Overview of Program

Our program is for parents and their babies. It is offered once a week for an hour each week for a total of 4 weeks. The program encourages parent to share books with their babies starting in their first year. Information is shared and discussed regarding choosing quality books, how to interact with the books, different types of books and more. It supports all families in developing early literacy and language experiences and promotes healthy family relationships. Participants receive a good quality book bag and a board book on the first week. They receive an additional book each week that they attend. A teddy bear is given out to parents on week two. They are encouraged to use the teddy as a reading buddy for their children. On week three we go to the local library for a tour and participants receive a gift certificate for a free Family Library Membership. If a tour is unavailable the Librarian comes to talk directly to the group. Snacks and social time is provided each week.

Overview of Program

B.O.O.K.S. is based on the Homespun program developed at the Brooks Campus of Medicine Hat College. This, in turn, is based on the Motherhead program out of North Carolina. A qualified, paid facilitator models book sharing strategies with small groups of eight to ten parents, for eight weeks. Ideas and themes are discussed and the stories are extended by arts and crafts and drama activities. Parents also engage in informal writing, often writing a story for their children during the program. Parents borrow books to share with their pre-school children and they also receive gift books.

The B.O.O.K.S. programs are run in the community in partnership with Head Start programs, community development projects, schools, health centres and daycares. This program has run successfully since 1993 and is becoming well recognized among other community agencies. Please call the coordinator for details on program locations.

Overview of program

We run Families Learning Together at three sites in our area. We do "BOOKS" two times a week for seventeen weeks at each site. We do the program first thing in the morning for 45 minutes to an hour, which is good way for the parents and children to start the day together. We read the story and then hand out the books and encourage everyone to follow along. Then depending on the book, we sometimes take turns reading it or telling the story. The parents then look at and read the book with their child. We always do a book related craft or game involving the parent and child so that the family can take it home and use it with the book. The parents are encouraged to take books home and read them with their children and bring them back the next time we have BOOKS.

Overview of Program

Each BOOKS~Together program will be offered once a week for 1.5 hours for 6 weeks. This program is based on the belief that parents are the children's first and most important teachers. In our Books ~Together program, parents and their children meet to read and share children's books, songs, rhymes and art activities based around the books that we use. Families also participate in a sharing time where they can bring favourite books from home to share with the group. We talk with parents about sharing books with children and how it teaches them the enjoyment of reading books; book language and the pattern of stories; how print works and how books are organized; and strategies to help in reading. Snacks and social time is provided at each session.

Overview of Program

Once a week (period of 8 week), for approximately 1.5 hrs, parents and child (age 2 to 4 yrs old) meet with an animator for a fun time to discover the joy of reading and being read to. There is always a theme, a letter and a sound that is presented to the children. Each session starts with the animator presenting and reading a book chosen specifically to awaken the children imagination and their desire to learn. Parents and their children participate in activities related to the story, such as: drawing, craft, singing, poems, rhymes, etc. Parents have a period apart from their children for a few minutes to discuss specific subjects such as great books discovered, different topics of interest, how they implemented their reading routine, etc. Bricolo, the clown, follows the children through their learning and their imagination and brings out surprises. Parents receive an activity book including craft ideas, words of the songs and rhymes, a carrying bag and each book that was read.

Overview of Program

The Storybook C.O.W. is a children's bookmobile that travels to various sites around Edmonton. The bus carries a large collection of children's books. This program offers an opportunity for parents and children to drop in and view weekly-featured books and story props. There are two staff members on the bus; one remains at the front of the bus and the second staff members interacts with the children and parents at the back of the bus. Parents have the choice of reading to their children or having a facilitator read stories to them. The program is very individualized and based on the needs of the group that is on the bus at any given site. Books can be borrowed for two weeks and weekly draws are held in order to give parents an opportunity to own quality books. Please call the coordinator for details on program locations.

Overview of Program

Colour Our World is an innovative settlement service for newly arrived immigrant and refugee children between the ages of two to twelve years. This unique learning program helps newcomer children adjust to life and school in Canada through educational and fun activities. These activities seek to address children's settlement issues such as social and emotional isolation, coping with the changing weather, preparing for school in Canada, and knowledge about sports, food and customs in Canada. Colour Our World seeks to increase cross-cultural understanding and public awareness of multiculturalism.

Overview of Program

Our ESL Mother Goose program piggy-backs on our ESL classes that happen in 3 communities. The parents bring their children an hour and half before the English class begins. We read stories, do rhymes, sing songs and have a snack. During snack time we talk about something that's happening in the community that they may not have heard about, health issues or what ever the parents have brought or have questions about. We also have 2 more Rhyme programs that are housed in the local public libraries. They are sponsored by Parent Link.

Approximate # of families served each year: 10 to 12 families per session that runs twice a year, so approximate 20 families per year. In the library programs we have approximate 20 families who participate per year.

Overview of Program

It is a program where families meet for 3 hours once a week for 20 weeks (14 weeks 2008/09 year). For the first hour and a half of the program the parents and children are in separate programs. The parent portion of the programming follows the LAPS model and also incorporates the B.O.O.K.S. model (2009/2010 and 2010/2011 program years). Parents come together to work on their literacy and parenting skills and learn ways to share books with their children. The children are in a separate room taking part in literacy activities including crafts, stories, songs and rhymes. We bring the families together to share a nutritious lunch and then we end the day with a Rhyme Time session. Parents receive a weekly grocery bag of fresh produce as an incentive to attend the program. Assistance with transportation is also available to program participants.

Overview of Program

We now run Parents Learning Together on Friday mornings in conjunction with Family Active Living immediately following the conclusion of the BOOKS sessions. The parents are the "teachers" as they lead the discussions based on their interests. We do a literacy based activity and craft that is linked to the discussion as well. The children go into the gym and participate in Family Active Living, but a half hour "active literacy" activity is planned each week. A nutritious lunch and snack is provided in which the parents help out with.

Overview of Program

Pebbles in the Sand is an ESL and Literacy program that serves multi-barriered immigrant and refugee women and their children. Participants have 0-7 years of education in their home countries. The Family Literacy methodology is a teacher-student approach that is based on techniques from mainstream models and information from Alberta Learning's Family Literacy programs. Our children's portion of the program is geared toward children aged 0-6 years old. We introduce age appropriate activities and a classroom setting (nursery rhymes, storybooks, writing your name, etc.). All of this is done in a manner that fosters their skills in the English language and helps them integrate and be successful in the Canadian school system.

Overview of Program

This is an oral literacy program that is based on Rhymes that Bind. This program will be offered to parents and caregivers with children 0-6 once a week for 10 weeks. Each session will be 1 hour long.

Families will come to learn to enjoy rhymes, stories, finger plays, songs and simple movement games with their infants and toddlers in a supportive peer group. Facilitation is directed at the parents with the children joining in. Sitting in a circle on the floor, the families learn rhymes and songs, which lead naturally to holding, touching and bouncing the children.

Overview of Program

Rhymes That Bind is an oral language development program that also promotes positive parenting. This program focuses on rhyme, story and song and is held in partnership with community agencies. Adapted from the Parent-Child Mother Goose Program in Toronto, Rhymes That Bind promotes oral language development in infants. It also provides a positive supportive environment for parents. The program involves circle time with parents and infants up to three years old, during which rhymes, songs and stories are shared. Two facilitators lead the program for 10 weekly sessions, for one hour per week. This program is often run in collaboration with local health centres, which target high needs families. A lunch or snack is provided either before or after the sessions.

Overview of Program

This 1.5 hour, 16 week program runs in the County of Red Deer for parents and their children from 0-6 contains elements from a variety of programs including Rhymes that Bind, BOOKS, Story sacks, Storytelling and Magic Carpet Ride. The program begins with songs and rhymes, a form of storytelling followed by activity centres. The program then ends with a snack and social / networking time. Parents learn new ways to interact with their children and help with their child's language development. Children learn about rhyme, rhythm and playing with language. The goals are to have parents and children read and play together and just have fun sharing time together. This will help the child to develop language and early literacy skills and the parents gain skills and feel more confident helping their children. It also build's the child's social skills and allows the parents time for networking and sharing with other parents

Overview of Program

The aim of a storysack is to help parents gain the confidence to enjoy books and reading together with their children. A storysack contains a variety of things such as a book, toys that go along with the story, puzzles, games, songs and reading material. Parents are encouraged to be a role model and to bring their own skills, imagination and creativity into using literacy in this way with their child.

Overview of Program

Our project is titled Acimow Muskimota meaning Storysacks in the Cree language. We are developing Storysacks with HeadStart parents and children in the communities of Buffalo Lake Metis Settlement, Kikino Metis Settlement and the town of Lac La Biche. Utilizing elders and other resources within the three communities allows our project to extend the Storysacks by incorporating Aboriginal traditional knowledge and culture within the development of each Storysacks e.g. Cree language, oral story-telling.

Overview of Program

This group is s support to teen mothers with parenting information and literacy as the focus of the sessions. This group meets once a week for 1.5 – 2 hours every week for 35 weeks. Literacy activities, promotion and support are included in each week. Some weeks the main focus of the group will be based on the BOOKS program as well as other literacy elements from other models. The purpose is to model positive literacy strategies in both the parenting sessions and the nursery, and promotes the importance of reading and learning new things for themselves. Literacy will be embedded into all aspects of current programming within the Teen Group.
